Shawna Virago – TRANIMAL (Submission) (Bonus)

It isn't easy being a woman, so being a transwoman can't be too far from that experience. Embracing what she is and saying fuck off to simple-minded individuals, Shawn Virago sings about being a fierce individual, in the wake of the injustices trans people face.

“This country needs this trans-anthem more than ever before,” she says. “They can't keep us down — and what better time to fight back and declare our power than Pride Month?”

Virago is a longtime underground queer music icon, and Tranimal is part of her legacy of trans/queer transgrrl power songs. Perhaps, one-day humans will live in a world where gender isn't so touchy; appreciating our differences. Until then, watch the music video for the forward-thinking transgender musician's newest single below. It's called: TRANIMAL.
